

City of Culver City Community Emergency Response Team

Culver City and its Fire Department invite you to join Culver City's emergency preparedness team and make a difference in the event of a disaster.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE?

The training is free and available to residents of Culver City and those who work in Culver City. Participants must be a minimum of 16 years of age. (Non-Culver City residents may also attend if they live in an area with a CERT Program and space is available.)

WHAT'S INVOLVED? WHERE IS THE TRAINING?

Over the course of four class sessions, Culver City firefighters and civilian CERT instructors will train you to help your family and neighbors by teaching you how to be better prepared when disaster strikes. Approximately 22 hours of training include an Introduction to Disaster Response, Medical Operations, Fire Suppression, Light Search & Rescue, and Disaster Psychology. Training takes place right in Culver City at the Fire Department Training Facility at 9275 Jefferson Boulevard.

HOW DO YOU SIGN UP?

Commit to helping yourself and others. Complete the tear-off and return by mail or in person to CERT, c/o Culver City Fire Department, City Hall, 9770 Culver Boulevard, Culver City, CA 90232, or by email to training@culvercitycert.org. You must register for the class BEFOREHAND – walk-ins cannot be accommodated. Class size limited to 25 people to allow for plenty of "hands-on training". You will be contacted approximately 3-4 weeks before the class starts with more information.
